"If you are a small-cap value stock, not only are borrowing costs going to be higher for your company, but your credit is unlikely to be as strong as a larger company."