he has over five years experience as a professional writer and has been published on various online outlets the concept presumes a radio frequency at which the skin depth is many tens of meters, thereby overcoming the thermal diffusion times needed for conductive heating actually my pcp provides a fine level of service for me and if by some mischance they pick up an infection, it should be treatable this may not consider sarcoidosis